

My amateur call sign is N8GIO, an extra class licensee and I think the requirement for testing with morse code should be totally eliminated as it is an outmoded method of communication in today's world.